Updates and insights to keep you in the know

Save A Tree, Save A Buck, Sign Up!

eStatements with Check Images are here! You can now get your statement through Online Banking instead of having a paper statement sent to your mailbox. Here's how it works:

- a note will come to your e-mail inbox that tells you your eStatement is ready to view
- you will view your statement in Online Banking where it is safe and secure
- a record is kept of your statements from the last 18 months for convenient viewing anytime
- eStatements can be printed from your computer
- Check Images allows you to see each check that has cleared during the month
- It's FREE!

Enroll when you log in to Online Banking! Don't have Online Banking? Stop by one of our offices and let a Financial Services Officer get you started.

Go green, get green! The earlier you sign up for eStatements with Check Images, the more chances you have to win a cool $50. We will draw a name of an eStatements with Check Images user each week for 15 weeks! The lucky winners will not only be saving green with eStatements, but they'll get some extra green put straight into their account. Sign up now to increase your chances. Drawings will be held each Monday until June 22, 2009. Check out the winners each Monday on our blog!

Internet access, an email address, and enrollment in Northwest Georgia Credit Union's Online Banking are required to receive eStatements with Check Images. Members are not required to receive eStatements with Check Images. The credit union will provide either a paper statement or eStatements with Check Images to the member at no cost. Statement records start June 2008. Online access to Check Images are only available to members as a feature of eStatements with Check Images. A full disclosure will be made available to you at the time of enrollment into eStatements with Check Images.

Follow the Credit Union Online

Northwest Georgia Credit Union has entered the blogging world! We have started a blog, similar to an online journal, in an effort to show our members a little bit about who we are and what we do. We tend to be light-hearted in our writing, but we hope to be informative as well. Feel free to add us to a feed reader and be sure to leave us a comment whenever you see something that strikes your fancy!
